Working language:

English

Number of Spanish participants:

3 from Vocational Education and Training.

Profile of participants:

VET Beneficiaries and VET Trainers or prospective trainers.

Themes and goals of the event

The primary objective of institutions specialising in vocational education (VET) is that of offering their students a dynamic and personalised hands-on experience. Successful VET educators require a combination of academic qualifications and work experience in the field taught. The latter is crucial and must be relevant and up-to-date. Technology is also a major attribute and educators need to keep themselves abreast with the latest developments in the field. Erasmus+ is an ideal programme for VET educators to achieve this, by undertaking focused placements in industry, allowing them to enrich their skills in line with the latest technology.

Expected results:

Networking that could lead to new projects in the field; Updating of skills and the application of the latest technology related to the field;
