How can I study in Spain?

If you would like to study in Spain you can apply for your admission at the University of your preference.

The requirements and access regulations vary on every level (Undergraduate, Master and Doctorate degrees). Information on the Spanish University System is available on the Education website to help you prepare your admission.

Visit:

<http://www.sepie.es/internacionalizacion/why-study-in-spain.html>

Spanish universities have International Relations offices to help you with all kinds of questions related to your admission, accommodation, etc.

What are the necessary procedures?

If you have been admitted to a course of up to three months you do not have to complete any procedures. You just have to hold a valid identity card or passport.

If you have been admitted for a more than three months-course, you should ask for your registration in the Central Register of Foreign Nationals within three months from the date of your arrival.
