The seminar focuses on research conducted by NAs and external researchers cooperating with them. Within the leading theme, sessions on more specific research topics related to Erasmus+ program are envisaged. They include:

- Innovative approaches to methodology in educational research
- Market research methods used in educational research: practice and possibilities
- Participants reports and their use for research (by NAs, researchers and policy makers)
- Dissemination and exploitation of research results

Participants are invited to deliver a presentation related to the above-listed topics. We welcome abstracts of both theoretical and practical natures. If a participant wishes to deliver such presentation, she/he is asked to send us proposed title of the presentation and a short abstract (300-500 words).

For those who wish to inform about their research in a different way, a poster session will be organized during the second day of the seminar. If a participant wishes to present a poster, she/he is asked to provide us with short information on poster to be presented (title and outline of its content).

Expected results: presentations of research activities and results; discussions on methodology in research on Erasmus+ programme; sharing of tools and good practices; networking for future joint research activities of NAs.
